

Interview Coaching Services

thecareercoach

Do you have an upcoming interview for your dream job?

Would you like detailed feedback and suggestions of how to present yourself in your best light, so you can get the job?

Choose from our in-depth premium interview coaching and standard interview coaching offers.

It's frustrating when you prep hard and do your best, only to lose out to another candidate. When feedback is asked for and what you get is vague or incomprehensible, it can add insult to injury as you don't know what to do to put it right and succeed the next time.

Interview coaching gives you the opportunity to practice in real time and in confidence, your answers to the questions they are likely to ask you, based on their job description and your CV.

While hardly anyone relishes the idea of a mock interview, and we know you're likely to feel a little nervous, we assure you that you'll never get a safer environment in which to make mistakes, so that you never repeat them when it matters... in the real interview, when you must stand head and shoulders above the rest of the candidates with your warmth and credibility to succeed.

Meet Eveline Vilke, Your Expert Interview Coach

For over eight years, Evelina has been transforming the way leaders and professionals come across in interviews and win job offers. She has also worked with individuals in their 20s and 30s to secure jobs within FTSE 100 companies. Her particular area of expertise is to work with individuals who want to develop their career internationally.

Evelina is passionate about empowering individuals to achieve their career goals and her coaching blends practical and actionable job-hunting strategies with personal branding elements assisting her clients to get noticed in a competitive job market.

Prior becoming a career coach Evelina has assisted private equity firms, boutique investment banks, hedge funds, accounting and asset management firms to find and recruit top talents which provided her with a deep understanding of the recruitment process which she continues to use in her coaching session.

"After getting quite far in interview processes but never quite sealing the deal I started working with Evelina for the most part because she was easy to talk to. My main purpose was to work on interview question practice. But, where Evelina really helped me was honing in on my career motivations, my weaknesses and my strengths and how to sell those effectively. Whilst I initially had approached Evelina on how to create formulaic answers to typical questions, the work we did together meant that the answers I gave in interviews became genuine and my personality started to shine through. As my interviews were for global roles with people located in different countries, Evelina also helped me tailor my interview style to accommodate different cultural styles. I ended up getting a role that was absolutely perfect for me and I couldn't be happier. Thank you, Evelina."

Premium Interview Coaching (£499)

In-depth coaching on every aspect of the interview process from researching and preparing for your first interview, performing in first and subsequent interviews, individual and team exercises/presentations/case studies, telephone and Zoom/Teams interviews, salary negotiation and more.

You'll receive:

- Three coaching sessions: 1 X 1.5 hour session plus two follow-up sessions of 1 hour each
- A “pep call” on the morning of your interview to address last minute wobbles and have you fired up and ready to impress!
- Detailed written feedback on your interview answers
- Assignments to work on between sessions
- Email support between calls
- Supporting articles/resources
- Your coach's preparation and follow up time

Premium is recommended for:

- Those who need to work through their CV in detail and prepare, practice and hone stories which demonstrate competence for each and every aspect of the job description.
- Parents and carers going back to work, the self-employed wishing to return to a permanent role, job-hoppers and those with awkward gaps or moves in their CV to overcome.
- Those who've had feedback that they are “too direct” or lack sufficient “warmth”.
- Introverts who find it hard to be speak up or be assertive in interviews, and dislike “blowing their own trumpet”.
- Those facing several rounds of interviews, presentations and assessments, such as with PwC, JP Morgan, L'Oreal, BCG, Accenture and other major organisations.

Standard Interview Coaching (£199)

What if you don't need bells and whistles?

You just want a one-off intensive coaching session in which you get taken through your paces so you can practice your answers and get feedback from an experienced career coach on how your answers land with them?

Then all you need is our standard interview coaching session which includes:

- One 1.5 hour coaching session
- Coach prep time
- Coach follow up

Before the session you will send your CV, job description and a list of questions you have found difficult to answer in past interviews or fear being asked for upcoming ones.

Your coach will then prepare a list of competency-based questions specific for your role and background, ready to ask during the interview session.

During the session itself we will:

- Identify your interview practice goals
- Conduct a mock interview, which will include your tricky questions
- Give you detailed feedback on what you did well, what you could do differently and what would make it better
- End with a personalised 3-5 step action plan, to use in your next interview.

HOW DO I GET STARTED?

To get started email Evelina with a few dates and times Monday to Friday to schedule your session. Confirm whether you want the Premium or Standard coaching programme and what specifically you would like help with and include the job description and CV you want to work on, and she'll take it from there.

Sessions are available in person at London Bridge and Canary Wharf, and by phone or Zoom for those outside of London or wishing the convenience of a virtual support. A mixture of face to face and virtual is also available.

She looks forward to working with you.
